STRAIN OF THE MONTH

Chiquita Banana

This is a strain for experienced cannabis smokers only.

Consistently
testing between 29 and 32%
THC on each
batch, this is one hybrid flower that is not particularly daytime appropriate.

With
an enjoyable flavor
that is both sweet and complex, this is a favorite originating out of Santa Cruz.
Supremely resinous buds yield an effect that is relaxed, spacey and content. It's no wonder Utopia Meds took home bronze this year at the High Times Cup for this very strain, which is so pleasing to such a wide array of medicinal cannabis users.

EDIBLE OF THE MONTH

300 Bar $15 (300mg)

Heavenly and luscious, (and extremely effective)
artisan chocolate bars available in 4 flavors:

- Dark Chocolate

CULTIVATING WISDOM™ DECEMBER CULTIVATING TIP

NO SLOW SEASON IN OUR GROW SEASON

With all the work of the outdoor harvest finally behind us, it's tempting to take the month of December off. However, many cultivators use the holiday season to clean up their grow spaces, both indoor and out. It's especially necessary to thoroughly clean any indoor or greenhouse spaces ahead of planting to make sure that there are no pests lying in wait when your plants are put in place. Growing spaces will need to be insulated and perhaps heated to prevent frost damage. Days may still be warm and sunny, but nighttime temperatures drop significantly, which can result in dead cannabis plants, a very sad sight indeed! This is also a time when it is important to be vigilant for pests; they too may want to come inside during the winter months and your plants likely look very tasty to them. Catch them early to avoid infestation!
