STRAIN TALK

Hash Train

Indica/Sativa
THC: 18.5% CBD: 0.4%

Hash Train grows on bushy plants in dense, light green buds that smell of fresh mint, with smoke that tastes like sweet flowers. It is a rare cross of Trainwreck and Hashplant, which really produces a strain unto itself, with very individual flavors and effects. The body effect is strong and relaxing, yet the head effects are equally potent. After inhaling Hash Train, patients are likely to find themselves increasingly spacey, with an interest in creative pursuits, but probably not completing chores. Due to its all-encompassing mental and physical effects, and lovely flavor, this strain is bound to be a favorite to many.

suspiciously delicious

A delicious and luxurious treat to share with your sweetie for the holiday!

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Cherry Chocolate
CannaKisses

Ingredients:

- 1 cup Suspiciously Delicious CannaButter, (softened and cool)
- 1 cup confectioner's sugar
- 1/8 tsp salt
- 2 tsp Maraschino cherry liquid
- 1/4 tsp almond extract
- 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup Maraschino cherries, chopped
- Granulated sugar, to sprinkle on cookies
- One chocolate kiss for each cookie, (unwrapped)

Directions:

Preheat oven to 325°F. In a large bowl, cream CannaButter for approximately 1 minute. Next, add in the powdered sugar and salt gradually, as you beat them into the creamed butter. Add the cherry juice and almond extract. Combine. Slowly add flour, mixing thoroughly. Gently stir in the cherries. Shape dough into balls 1 inch in diameter, placing them 2 inches apart on your greased baking sheet. Use your thumb to gently press each cookie's center until the cookie is about 1/2 inch thick. Sprinkle each cookie with sugar. Bake cookies for about 14 minutes, or until the bottoms are golden-brown. Remove from oven and immediately press a chocolate kiss into the center of each cookie. Cool completely before serving this sweet treat to your Valentine!

Tip of the Month/Know The Law

President Declares CANNABIS Less Harmful than ALCOHOL

All over the United States of America, Americans are changing their attitude about cannabis use. Numerous states are discussing implementing medical marijuana regulations and even legalizing in the very near future. Popular culture seems to be, for the most part, portraying cannabis as a more acceptable medicine and social relaxant than in past eras. Positive representations of responsible cannabis use are popping up all over our favorite TV shows and in movies. For the majority, public opinion seems to be following. Although not everyone supports cannabis, even President Barack Obama seems to feel comfortable supporting the pro-cannabis laws at the state level. At the end of last month, Obama stated while on record with The New Yorker: "I don't think it is more dangerous than alcohol," and classified penalties for cannabis possession as "unduly harsh." These declarations are an important piece of the puzzle for lifting cannabis prohibition. Hopefully, they foreshadow more positive legislation. Visit norml.org for details.

CULTIVATING WISDOM™ FEBRUARY CULTIVATING TIP

Outgrow the Crowd

February is often considered a downtime by outdoor cultivators, but this is actually the ideal time to prepare your mother plants for cloning. Aggressive topping and trimming will make your plants sprout new growth in all directions, which is very desirable when you are about to take cuttings off of them. Also, it's a great time to transplant them into their final size pots, large enough for roots to have plenty of room to stretch. If you plan on having an extra large outdoor crop this year, consider adapting your babies to the outdoors early. Plants that will be going outdoors should be introduced to dappled sunlight for a couple of hours each day. This process can begin at the end of this month, providing the weather cooperates.
