STRAIN TALK

Natural Crumbles and Natural Whip

THC levels ranging from 60 - 70%

Organicann is premiering our new line of Natural CO2-extracted full-melt concentrates. The original cannabis buds that yield these final products are grown by artisan cultivators in the Emerald Triangle, one of the finest growing regions recognized the world over. This area has a tradition of growing great cannabis, and the flowers used in these full-melts are classic strains that Northern California growers have long been acknowledged for growing with superiority. Upon inhaling the Natural Whip concentrate, it is impossible to miss the sweet, sharp sourness of Sour Diesel and Chem Dawg. The flavor of the Natural Crumbles is harder to place; it is sweeter, with a finish reminiscent of fresh anise. While the texture of the Crumbles will work well for many inhalation methods, the Whip is more suited to vapor pens that are designed for oils. The effect of these full-melts is immediate, strong and heady. These are ideal for a lazy afternoon, and are perfect for focusing the mind on something you love to do.

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Irish Tea "Pot" Cake

Ingredients:

- ½ cup Suspiciously Delicious CannaButter, softened
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 ½ tsp vanilla extract
- 1 ¾ cups all-purpose flour
- 2 tsp baking powder
- ½ tsp salt
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup confectioner's sugar, for topping

Directions:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease and flour a 9 inch circular baking pan. In a medium bowl, mix together CannaButter and sugar until creamy. Beat in the eggs, one at a time. Then, stir in vanilla extract. In a separate bowl, combine the flour, baking soda and salt. Stir this dry mixture into the butter mixture, simultaneously adding in the milk. Spread the batter evenly into the prepared pan. Bake for about 30 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted into the center of the cake comes out clean. When cake has completely cooled, use the butter knife to loosen the cake around the edges and flip it onto a plate to remove from pan. Sprinkle confectioner's sugar onto cake, as desired. Enjoy Mary Jane's favorite authentic Irish treat for St. Patty's Day!

Tip of the Month/Know The Law

Oregon's Fight for Protection of Patient Rights

A decision made in federal court in Oregon could be setting a precedent for greater protection measures for medical cannabis patients nationwide. On February 11th, it was ruled by U.S. District Court Judge Ancer Haggerty that the federal government can no longer seize patients' medical records simply by issuing an administrative subpoena. Judge Haggerty stated that this practice is in violation of the 4th Amendment, which prohibits unreasonable searches and/or seizures. Instead, records can only be released after the federal government obtains a judicially sanctioned warrant with the requirement of probable cause. This is to protect the patient's right to expect confidentiality from their doctors, especially regarding their medical history. These guidelines are currently only effective within Oregon, and it is certainly true that the federal government has ample ability to procure warrants. However, since patients' privacy rights and discrimination have long been an ongoing battle in the medical cannabis community, it is encouraging to witness this very official step in the right direction. CULTIVATING WISDOM™

MARCH CULTIVATING TIP

Springtime Sprouts

Despite the fact that we have had hardly any Winter weather, Spring is about to... well, spring. Start preparing outdoor space for your garden. If necessary, consider trimming back overhanging tree branches and brush which may block sunlight from your precious cannabis plants. This is also an excellent time to begin germinating seeds, if you plan to grow an outdoor garden from seed this year. Make sure that sprouts are planted directing under lights, in soil that drains efficiently to prevent delicate roots from rotting under moist conditions. Avoid over-watering for the same reason. Happy sprouting!

Notice to all Members: Update Early!

Here at OrganiCann, April 20th is our busiest time of the year! Many patients wait to update their recommendations, or become members with us until that day. This can result in hour-long waits to gain entrance into our 420 Celebration. Don't get stuck waiting! If you expire before 4/20 or are bringing a new patient with you, we strongly recommend coming in before April 19th to update recommendations. The earlier you come in, the shorter your wait time!
