PAIRING OF THE MONTH

Outdoor Lavender Trainwreck and the Lavender Trainwreck Natural Pen

This Lavender Trainwreck is a sungrown harvest of excellent quality, and the Natural Cannabis Company would like to invite you to try it two different ways. The hybrid is now available as flower, and as a CO2-extracted Gold Whip in the Natural Vaporizer Pen. The flavor is a therapeutic combination of floral and piney, with an underlying note of hash that is a nod to its Afghani heritage. Lavender Trainwreck has immediate, potent effects; even experienced medical marijuana patients will find that a little bit can go a long way. Being a 50/50 blend of a full Sativa (all-American Trainwreck,) and an Indica (Dutch Lavender,) this strain is not likely to make one productive, but it is not sedative either. Instead, it produces a supremely comfortable body effect and a spacey mind that is fit for activities like watching movies or reading.

EDIBLE OF THE MONTH

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

High Pump-Cann Pie

Ingredients:

1 15 oz. can pumpkin purée
½ cup Suspiciously Delicious Power Honey
1 ½ tsp ground cinnamon
½ tsp salt
1 tsp ground ginger
¼ tsp ground nutmeg
1/8 tsp ground cloves
3 eggs
1 5oz. can evaporated milk
½ cup whole milk
1 prepared pie crust of your choice

Directions:

Preheat oven to 375°F. Combine the pumpkin purée, Power Honey, and spices in a bowl. Combine the remaining wet ingredients separately, and then blend both mixtures together, stirring thoroughly. Pour the filling into a prepared pie crust. Cover the edges of the pie crust with foil to prevent burning. Bake for approximately 50 minutes, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Remove the foil 15 minutes before it is done to turn the edges a nice golden-brown. This is the ideal dessert to bring to a Danksgiving celebration near you!

CULTIVATING WISDOM™

NOVEMBER CULTIVATING TIP

Keep it Fresh

When your cannabis is so dry that your stems snap easily, but the buds are still sticky, it is time to put them in tightly sealed glass jars. This will happen faster if the temperature in your drying room is hotter. To cure your cannabis, keep your jars in a cool, dark place. Refrigeration or freezing is not a good idea, as this will degrade your THC content at an accelerated rate. It is good to occasionally open up your jars throughout the next month or two to derive the best flavor from your flowers. After that, all you have to do is enjoy the complex flavors and effects of your own homegrown medicine!

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY CANNABIS CUP!

From November 21st to 28th, Amsterdam will celebrate its 27th anniversary hosting the original High Times Cannabis Cup. Founded by High Times editor Steven Hagar, and based on legendary harvest festivals held in California during the 1970s, the Cup began as a small event featuring entries from only four seed companies. It was not until the 7th annual Cup that the current version of the event emerged, allowing special ticket-holders to do the judging. The following year, participants came from all of the major cultivation regions in the world. The event now permits entry samples submitted by local coffeeshops as well, and includes musical and performance entertainment for all guests. For two decades, there have been specially selected celebrity judges, such as Jack Herer, Ed Rosenthal, Soma and Beat generation heroine Carolyn Cassidy. Now, High Times Cups are held all over the United States, including in Colorado, Michigan and our own San Francisco Cannabis Cup, which takes place every summer!
