MELT OF THE MONTH

Purple Rain CO2 Natural Whip Indica

For as long as anyone at Organicann can remember, there has been no bud better than Purple Rain for relaxation, sleep, pain relief and overall chillness. It represents that perfect purple indica that Northern California is known for, and has a sweet, floral, grape flavor that makes it a real treat! The Natural Medicine team is releasing a Natural Whip full melt concentrate extracted from these delicious and potent flowers. The true essence of Purple Rain is reflected in this concentrate that is the ideal texture for painting a joint paper, or use in almost any vaporizer pen. Purple Rain Natural Whip is deliciously sweet and hashy, with a dark fruit finish, and will leave you feeling indulgently comfortable and calm. Try our newest CO2-extracted full melt product, and our most luxurious concentrate to date!

EDIBLE OF THE MONTH

Introducing Organicann's new

Suspiciously Delicious Chocolate Bars!

Each chocolate bar contains 500 mg of THC. Available in Milk Chocolate and Salted Caramel Dark Chocolate, for a decadent medicated treat, whatever your preference.

RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Canna-fruit Skewers

Ingredients:

Suspiciously Delicious Brownies of your choice, (available in Triple Chocolate, Blondie, Espresso, Black and White and Gluten-Free,) cut into one inch cubes.
Large marshmallows
Strawberries, washed and hulled
Blueberries, washed
Hot fudge sauce or chocolate syrup
Wooden skewers

Directions:

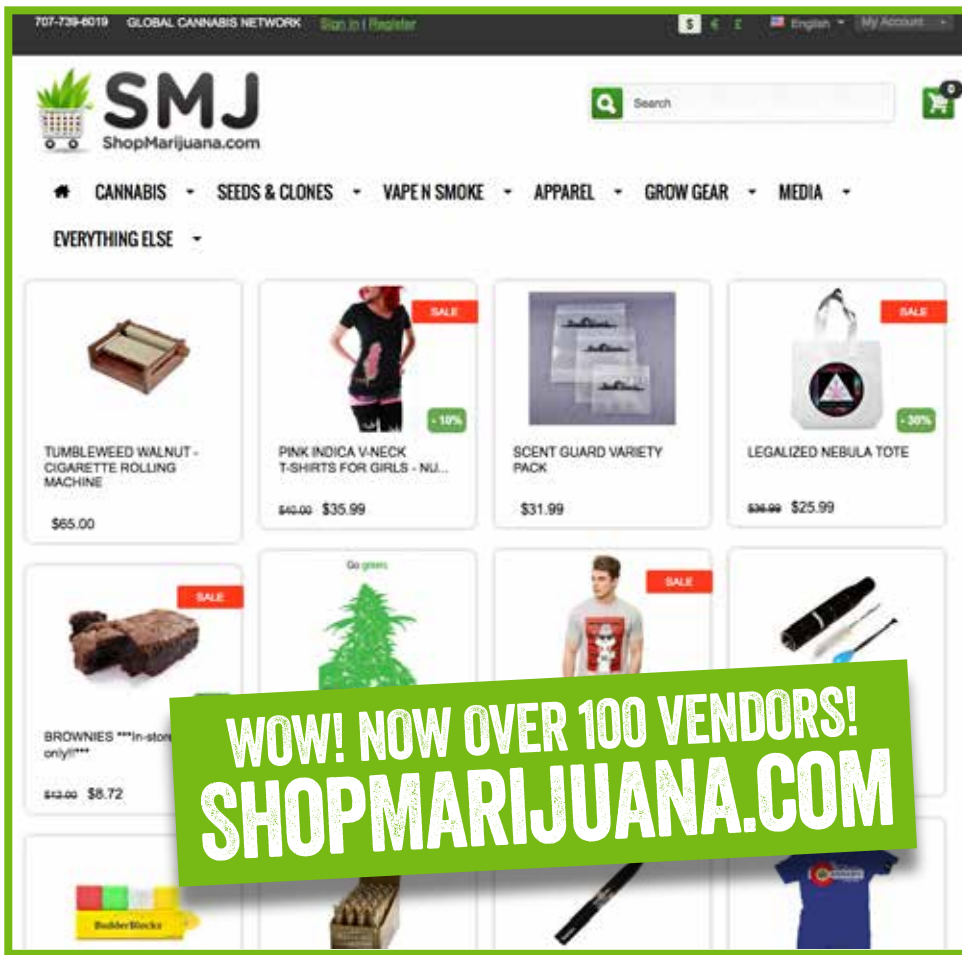

This recipe is adaptable to any quantity of skewers you wish to serve; shop for amounts of ingredients accordingly. One Suspiciously Delicious brownie will make about 3 to 4 skewers. To put these together, simply alternate strawberries, blueberries, marshmallows and medicated brownies on your skewers, and drizzle with chocolate as seen in photo above. Enjoy!

Tip of the Month/Know The Law

FIRE SEASON

While every season is the season to smoke "fire," this area is known for its arid climate in the summertime – the fire season. This results in a lot of unintentional forest fires, which do damage to local habitats and can be very dangerous. Due to this year's draught conditions, we are at an even greater risk than usual. Don't be part of the problem! Be careful with roaches; if a joint is still lit, do not toss it on the ground, particularly if there are dry grasses in your vicinity. California is notorious for out of control fires every summer. Cultivators, beware: tall, dry grasses can inspire neighbors to call the fire department when fire season is in full swing. Do not draw attention to your garden by allowing dry grasses to grow into tall, flammable fire kindling. Minimizing your yard's fire risk will give your neighbors less reason to be nosy, so keep grass trimmed and fences tall. Once you have taken precautions, you can sit back and enjoy the sunshine!

NEED A VAPORIZER PEN?

Good news! We are giving them out for free! Spend $60 on full melt concentrates, and receive a disposable pen. Spend $100 on full melt concentrates, and you receive a re-useable pen with a charger. Hurry, before we give them all away!

CULTIVATING WISDOM™

JULY CULTIVATING TIP

Watching the Grass Grow

In July, plants outdoors are already established, and this can be prime time for growth. This is the golden age of the vegetative stage of cannabis in Northern California. Sometimes this can result in overly heavy branches come harvest time. To prevent this becoming a problem, bamboo stakes and trellises can be used to prop up problem areas on your plants. Thinning and tying down branches early this month can also help to prevent broken branches later on, and make plants less susceptible to mold down the line. Think about pest control now, so that plants are not being sprayed during the flower phase. Feed your plants generously; vegetative plants grow larger when they have access to beneficial bacteria like that found in compost teas.
